

Parkhead Health and Social Care Hub

The Glasgow City Health and Social Care Partnership Integrated Joint Board meeting on the 15 February 2017 reviewed a paper setting out the initial proposal for the development of an Integrated Health and Social Care Centre to serve the needs of the community in the east end of Glasgow.

After considering the paper the Integrated Joint Board agreed that:

- a) This project is a priority.
- b) Full engagement should be carried out between March and May 2017.
- c) Taking into account the view expressed during the engagement a business case will be developed which presents the best option in terms of the strategic and service objectives, value for money and the affordability model.

The proposed centre will include a wide range of health and social care services. An initial options appraisal of the available location options identified the Parkhead Health Centre and Hospital site as the preferred option but this will now be subject to further appraisal including the Lightburn site, should it become vacant.

The development of the proposal will be led by Glasgow City Health and Social Care Partnership with a joint planning group with NHS Greater Glasgow and Clyde to ensure the benefits to the local community and opportunities for integration with acute services maximised.

The initial proposal would see the delivery of the following services:
