Introduction

This issue brings you news of Dignity at Work and another round of awards for NHSGGC.

Dignity at Work

The Dignity at Work survey is now underway, and closes at 5pm on Monday 27 November 2017.

This gives you the opportunity to tell us how you feel about dignity at work issues. The questions in the survey focus on bullying and harassment; discrimination; racism; abuse and violence from patients and public; resourcing and whistleblowing.

A number of staff had been experiencing issues when accessing the Dignity at Work survey link on Monday 13 November, with an error message appearing. This is an issue which originated at Webropol, who run the system, and has affected all Boards.

We have now been advised, by Webropol, that the links should now be working and all staff should be able to access the survey.

Please contact diana.hudson@ggc.scot.nhs.uk if you are continuing to experience issues.

More accolades for NHSGGC

Staff across NHSGGC are again picking up awards!

Congratulations go to Judith Roulston, Team Leader, Beatson West of Scotland Cancer Centre who picked up the UKONS (UK Oncology Nursing Society) Lynn Adams Award for Leadership and Innovation in Cancer Nursing.

Scottish Health Awards

We are also celebrating two winners at the recent Scottish Health Awards - Violet Grant, Healthcare Support Worker at the Beatson West of Scotland Cancer Centre, who was awarded the Unsung Hero Award and the multi-disciplinary team at the Centre for Integrative Care who picked up the coveted Healthier Lifestyle Award. Eastwood Health and Care Centre

Eastwood continues its winning streak, winning the Glasgow Institute of Architects (GIA) Awards Healthcare category outright and adding to the already impressive haul of awards gleaned. To read more click here.

Our Health Heroes Awards 2017

Congratulation also go to Marie MacIver who has won Operational Services Support Worker of the Year - Scotland Region.

Marie now goes forward for the National Award by being voted for online - click here.

It would be great if we could all get behind Marie and get voting!
