Introduction

This issue brings your information about the “Go Live” date for Turas and tells you the eEES is coming!

Turas Appraisal “Go Live” date - 2nd April 2018!

Turas Appraisal, the replacement for e-KSF, will go live on Monday 2nd April 2018. This update provides information about the go live date and a link to view further details on the Turas Appraisal system.

Arrangements for “Go Live” date

- Issue of username and password for staff with email addresses

All e-KSF users who have an email address in their e-KSF account will automatically be emailed a link to Turas Appraisal between 9.00am to 7.00pm on Monday 2nd April 2018. This email will include a username and password which will enable users to access Turas Appraisal. Communication will be sent NHS Scotland-wide by surname alphabetical order between these times.

(Note: Migrated email addresses were input to e-KSF by the user and in some cases this may be a personal email address and not a NHSGGC email address).

- Issue of username and password for staff without email addresses

The user name and password for those users without email addresses will be issued by the Learning and Education Support Team by contacting them via the helpdesk. To access full details please click on the link Turas Appraisal Update

eEES is coming... save the date, see below

Save The Date: August 2018

eEES is on the horizon.

The Electronic Employee Support System (eESS) is the new national workforce system which is going live in Greater Glasgow and Clyde in August 2018. The system will manage workforce information and support human resources and payroll services. It will allow employees and managers to access real time personnel information and carry out transactions digitally.

Details coming soon.
