Introduction

This issue of Core Brief brings you a message of thanks from Jane Grant, Chief Executive for all your efforts yesterday.

Message from Jane Grant, Chief Executive

Our Emergency Departments and Minor Injury Units were exceptionally busy yesterday dealing with a significant number of injuries as a result of the icy conditions. The response of our staff was outstanding, with many coming in at short notice and staying on duty beyond the end of their shifts to ensure patients were seen and treated as quickly as possible.

It never ceases to amaze me just how dedicated the NHSGGC team is and how committed you all are to the most important part of the job - looking after our patients.

I want to thank all the staff involved yesterday for your heroic response to the demands we faced.
